Welcome

Are you looking for an extra income? Working at home may be the opportunity for you to pursue. There are many work-at-home opportunities. We have researched and catalogued some opportunities for you to review more carefully. The work-at-home field can be exciting. You can:

- Be your own boss.
- Choose your own hours.
- Work when you like.
- Save on travel, clothing and child care expenses.

There are many benefits and a lot of freedom afforded with working at home. In fact, The Wall Street Journal reported years ago that one aspect of working at home, the practice of using home sewers, has been spreading rapidly. The article went on to describe how home-sewn garments go to some of the country's biggest retailers. The Labor Department has documents that show J.C. Penney Co., Sears, Roebuck & Co. and Dayton Hudson Corp. all carry garments that were home sewn. Of course, since the early 1940's, federal law has banned at-home production of certain types of apparel and jewelry. As such, caution should always be exercised.

All over America, people are changing the ways and the places they choose to work. Reports indicate that one out of every eight Americans is working or running a business from home. Homemakers, students, teachers, hobbyists, retirees and people just like you and me are all or can be working from home. And now, there are even more ways to work from home using the Internet and your computer. We even added a great new section this year we call "Cash For Surfing" with your personal computer.

Our book is divided up into three main sections of work-at-home opportunities. They are:

- 1. Work-At-Home Offers these are companies that have specific opportunities for you to work-at-home. Opportunities include assembly, craft projects, sewing and jewelry. We provide complete names and addresses.
- 2. How To Write or Design For Money we will show you how you can get published and paid for your writing, ideas and projects. This section gives you names and addresses of magazines, publishing companies and even corporations that provide endorsement programs. This is a great way to work from home when you want!
- 3. Other Work-At-Home Opportunities many local firms in your area- have opportunities for you to work-at-home. This section will describe these opportunities.

When considering a home assembly or similar work-at-home opportunity, always review the opportunity carefully. If you are required to send money as a registration fee or for materials, gain a total understanding of what your money is buying, what you will receive and what is expected of you. This will help you avoid disappointment or misunderstanding later.

Finally, good luck! You have taken the first step. The next step should be even easier!

SPECIAL TEACHER PROGRAMS

This book, and other Prime Publishing LLC. books can be a great teaching tool or aid. Students - just like adults - love to get mail. Our directories can be used to help kids learn reading and writing skills, math skills and about business.

We offer special school discount prices. Please write on your school letterhead to our company for further information.

SUBMITTING NEW WORK AT HOME OPPORTUNITIES OR CORRECTIONS

Companies, government agencies, trade associations, groups, etc. are invited to submit work-at-home and business opportunities for consideration in our database. A description and actual sample is best for our editors to carefully review the work-at-home or business opportunity and write up an appropriate description. Items can be for this Work-At-Home directory or others. Other directories published or planned include "Free Stuff" directories for Kids, Parents, College Students, Pets, Sports, Health and Fitness, Cooking and Babies.

The company also provides proprietary data to MyFree.com. This company maintains a very popular Work-At-Home World Wide Web Internet site at:

http://www.myfree.com

TERMS AND ABBREVIATIONS

LSASE: This stands for "Large Self-Addressed Stamped Envelope". This is a standard #10 or larger business size envelope, which measures approximately 4 1/8" high by 9 1/2" long.

Your item or information package will be returned to you in this envelope. You must put your name and complete mailing address on this envelope with the postage requested. Put your name and address in the center of the envelope - as if you were mailing this letter to yourself. Also, put your return address in the upper left hand corner of the envelope.

Fold up your LSASE so that it fits into another personal or #10 business envelope. Do NOT seal your LSASE - because the Company will use this to put your work-at-home opportunity in and mail it back to your name and address.

If we do not specify otherwise, you should put one stamp on the LSASE envelope. Very important - do not forget the stamp(s).

OFFER/OPPORTUNITY: The product(s) or service(s) that you will actually receive information on to review.

POSTAGE AND HANDLING: The fee charged by the Company to cover the costs of processing your request. These costs include opening your envelope (unless you use a postcard), addressing your item to you, selecting the right item to send, postage charges, office personnel, etc.

POSTCARD: A postcard is a small card that you can write on and mail without an envelope. Many companies request a postcard instead of an envelope. This saves the company the time it takes to open envelopes and helps speed your item back to you even faster.

The post office sells postcards with pre-printed postage. This represents your best value. Postcards must be at least 3 1/2" high by 5" wide to meet postal regulations. As such, do not use a 3" x 5" index card.

SASE: This stands for "Self-Addressed Stamped Envelope. This can be either a standard #10 business size envelope or your typical personal use envelope, which is called a 6 3/4 and measures approximately 3 5/8" high by 6 1/2" long.

Unless otherwise indicated, we recommend that you always use a #10 long business envelope. Your item or information package will be returned to you in this envelope. Many offers in this directory will require a #10 envelope due to their size and weight. You must put your name and complete mailing address on this envelope with the postage requested.

COMPANY: The companies, government agencies, trade associations, groups, etc. that make available work-at-home and business opportunities for consumers.

THE WORK AT HOME OPPORTUNITIES BOOK

This book is sold as information only. We try to keep our information as upto-date and as accurate as possible. Regretfully, inaccuracies may occur. Any income or business opportunity contains risk. We are not responsible for the conduct of any company represented in this book, nor for any agreement, contracts, financial gains, financial losses or related activities as a result of this book. Whenever you approach any company for any purpose, whether local, regional or national, you do so at your risk. Please investigate and verify for yourself every opportunity. If necessary, seek legal or other counsel prior to sending any money or engaging in any contract.

Our editors have verified each and every specific work-at-home address listed within this directory in section one. Unfortunately, work-at-home opportunities may change or be discontinued by the company at any time and without notice. As well, companies have the right to substitute items or offers should the original item or work-at-home opportunity run out or change. Whenever possible, we have tried to not publish work-at-home opportunities from companies who may not be able to make opportunities available for at least one year.

We are acting as "newspaper or magazine investigative reporters". We try to present our research as accurately as possible. Prime Publishing LLC. is not responsible for any errors or omission within this book. If you find any errors in this book, please notify us immediately so that we may contact the company and update our database.

Some states, counties and/or local municipalities may have legal requirements prior to your accepting home employment or beginning a business in your home. Check with each to inquire about specific licensing requirements, if any.

TIPS

- 1. Please only ask for the offers that you really want and/or need. Our Companies spend millions or dollars each year providing these work-athome opportunities to consumers.
- 2. Whenever possible, we recommend that you use a postcard to request information about work-at-home opportunities. Of course, if the Company requires a self-addressed stamped envelope or postage and handling charge, using a postcard will not be possible.
- 3. Be sure to print clearly or use a preprinted address label when writing to the Companies. Always include your zip code.
- 4. Always ask for the offer by the work-at-home opportunity name or as fully described in our description. Our listings look as follows:

Offer: Make Baby Blankets
Description: This is a great opportunity to hand sew baby blankets.

Write to:

Company: ABC Baby Co.
Address: PO Box 877, Young

Woods, IL 553990877.

Note: Whenever possible, we have listed the "Zip + 4" zip code. In the above example, the 5 digit zip code is "55399". The added 4 digits to speed delivery are "0877". You may also want to write this as "55399-0877".

5. You may also try the World Wide Web Internet site maintained by MyFree.com LLC. This company licenses data from Prime Publishing LLC and has agreed to include changes, deletions and additions to this book as space permits. This may be accessed at the following URL. It is:

http://www.myfree.com

6. We have categorized the work-athome opportunities into groups or "headings". These headings are detailed in the Table of Contents. Review the table of contents and look at those headings that interest you most.

There are a lot of work-at-home opportunities for you to review and consider. Do not attempt to review all of the work-at-home opportunities at once. There is just too much here.

- 7. They say that "Patience is a virtue". Our Companies receive many requests for their work-at-home opportunities every day. We recommend that you allow 1 3 weeks for processing of your requests and an additional 2 5 weeks for delivery. As such, your items could reach you in just a few days or could take as long as 8 weeks. So, Be Patient!
- 8. If you have a problem with any of the offers or companies listed in this book, we would appreciate the feedback. If we determine that a company is not reputable, we will review this situation and remove this company from future editions.

How To Write For Money

Your Guide To Getting Articles and Designs Published In Magazines and Newspapers

You may be a great writer, crafter, woodworker, painter, sewer, quilter or at the very least a "doer". You probably have some great designs or story ideas.

Believe it or not, most magazines actively solicit works from people just like you and me - and they pay you for each article, design, report or project they use. And, you can work-at-home - set your own hours and be your own boss!

To start, take a look at a selection of magazines that you think may have an interest in publishing your article, essay or designs.

Study the types of articles or designs that are used in each magazine. Then, write to the magazine and request the:

- "Writer's Guidelines" if you wish to submit an article
- "Editorial Submission Guidelines" if you wish to submit a project, pattern or design

Be certain to address each letter to "Attention: Editorial Office" and include a long self-addressed stamped envelope (LSASE).

In your letter, be certain to state whether you wish to write an article, essay or submit a project, like a craft design or pattern. A sample letter that may be used:

Date

Magazine

Attn: Editorial Office

Their Address

Their City, State Zip

Dear Magazine Name:

I am a designer/writer in City, State. I would like to learn more about your editorial submission guidelines.

Please send complete information to me as soon as possible.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Your Name Address City, State Zip

Fees for publication depend on many factors. Generally, you can expect to earn from $25 - $500 for each article or design.

Some submission factors to keep in mind include:

- Will the publication want exclusive use to my article or designs forever
- Do they want rights to publish the design or article first and then I can use it or sell it again
- Is your design or article original
- What is unique about your design or article
- Consumers like designs that are 90% done, they add 10% talent and take 100% credit.

Does your design fit that profile

- Is your design good for beginners, intermediates or advanced crafters
- Does your article appeal to the magazine's readers
- Do you know the editor
- Have you ever met the editor
- Did you ask the editor what type of designs or articles they need soon
- If it is November, you should not send in Christmas articles or designs for next month.

  Usually, publications work 4 12 months in advance
- If your design or article got rejected, did you inquire as to why
- Are your instructions easy to read and understand
- Did you send an actual design when a photograph was all they wanted
- Was your design or article sent in before the deadline
- Did you send a quilting design to a painting magazine. Did you send an article about parenting to a senior citizen's magazine
- Are you a certified instructor, teacher, educator, speaker, demonstrator or designer
- Have you won any awards or recognition

These are some of the many factors that editors consider. Read over this list carefully. Try to follow the editorial guidelines received from each magazine, along with any suggestions and thoughts presented. They are very important.

We have compiled a lists of select magazines. There are over 24,000 magazines published today - up from just 6,000 a few decades ago.

The list of magazines we have provided is a sample that we have selected based upon previous reader input and/or feedback. The list is organized by category and alphabetical by publication within each category.

Write to as many as you wish or locate their web sites on-line for submission guidelines. Review the information received carefully. Pick and choose the best "fits".

Writing for magazines and newspapers is a great work-at-home opportunity. Some people do this full-time and earn an excellent living. In fact, your favorite author probably works from home - and makes a great living. So - good luck!

Endorsement Programs

What if you never had to buy your favorite hobby supplies - like crafting supplies again?! Just imagine working with your favorite products and getting paid to use them. Many companies have endorsement programs. All you need to do is use or mention their products in the articles or designs that you seek to get published.

Every time any mention of their product in your article or design shows up in a qualified publication, you send it to the company. You get paid for using their product in your articles, projects and designs! Christmas, Birthday, Easter, and Halloween are just a few of the very popular projects that are sought after by manufacturers.

Your next step is to write a simple letter such as:

August 25, 2005

To whom it may concern:

I am a writer/designer in City, State. I would like to learn more about your endorsement program.

Please send full information to me as soon as possible.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Your Name Address City, State Zip

Some firms will even send you the supplies you need - free of charge! What could be better.

Other Work-At-Home Opportunities

Here is an example of a rather strange business related job a company we know of needed to complete. The job would involve taking a national charge card application and inserting it into a free-standing insert.

You have probably seen freestanding inserts. They come in your Sunday newspaper and contain coupons and direct mail offers.

This was no small job. Over 1,000,000 (that's right - million!) charge card applications needed to be inserted in just a few days. No machine could do the job. After a few calls the firm came upon companies that hire people locally to do "Piecework".

They pay people to do hand assembly in their own homes and pay them for every item inserted, cleaned, fixed, etc. These firms had "legions" of people on-call who would be happy to do the job - and quickly!

This company took the freestanding inserts, took the charge card applications and arranged for an "army" of people to insert the applications into the insert over a weekend.

They called their "home workers" and told them about the assignment. The home workers drove to the nearby warehouse and picked up the free standing inserts and the charge card applications. They inserted the charge card application into the free standing insert in the comforts of their own home.

Each home worker then brought back the completed project a few days later and the firm had the 1 million inserts to ship all over the country.

This is a great story. We really like to share this story because it illustrates exactly what type of valuable service a home worker can provide. We are sure that there are similar opportunities in your area.

In fact, there are probably hundreds, maybe even thousands of similar opportunities in your area right now. Of course, it depends on where you live. But we know of companies in very small towns and in the biggest cities that pay people to do "piecework".

In this section, we are going to show you how to locate these opportunities in your own areas.

Telephone

Some people do not like to do sales, marketing or research work over the phone. For others, it is an outstanding work-at-home opportunity.

Some of the firms that hire people to do work-at-home telephone work include:

- Insurance agents to screen prospects and set up appointments.
- Home remodeling to set up appointment.
- Telemarketing Firms while most like you to work from their facilities, some do allow people to work from home.
- Sales find a company that needs sales - and who doesn't - and they may be a prospect for home telephone work.
- Fundraising many non-profit groups need people to make phone calls from their homes.
- Elections many campaigns will hire people to assist in polling, canvassing and related activities.

Surveys

Have you ever received a phone call from someone who wants to qualify you for a survey? At our house we seem to get phone calls like this every few weeks.

Generally, a research company has been hired to locate a group of people who can come into an office and get paid to share their opinions. I have done surveys over the past few years on Diapers, Travel, Computer Software, Candy Bars, Food Products and more.

These companies, usually major corporations, want to locate a select group of people. Maybe people who have children in diapers, or people who like to travel for vacation by car or people who drive an imported automobile more than 5 years old. These are just a few examples.

Well, to locate these people companies use telemarketing and hire people to work from their home to locate family, friends and strangers who qualify for an upcoming survey.

If this type of work sounds interesting, look in the phone book for companies in the following categories:

- Research
- Survey
- Focus Groups
- Canvassing
- Tabulating

Call or write them and ask if they hire "freelancers" or independent contractors to locate qualified candidates for upcoming surveys.

Piece Work

Finding companies that have a need for someone who would like to do work from home is becoming easier and easier every day. More and more companies want to keep their fixed overhead expenses low, so they depend on non-employees more today.

Companies use some of these names to describe the opportunities including:

- Independent contractors
- Freelancers
- Contract labor
- Pieceworker
- Home assembler

Now that you know what to ask for, the question is where to look. Some suggestions include:

- State Employment Bureau these government agencies often post home assembly jobs or can refer you to companies in need.
- Chamber of Commerce in your area there may be dozens of local chambers. They often know which of their members hire home workers or are facing a labor shortage.
- Letter Shop look up letter shop in the yellow pages for business. These firms are located all over the country. They frequently are the best source to seek piece work or hand assembly work-at-home. Most forms, contract with letter shops to do hand and machine inserting of our items like jewelry, orders and books.

Prime Publishing LLC. uses several letter shops for hand and machine inserting.

Secretarial

One popular work-at-home opportunity is secretarial or clerical work. There are a variety of people that need clerical-related work done. Here are just a few examples:

- Salespeople many salespeople work alone without administrative support. They will provide documents or dictation for someone to do at home.
- Doctors medical transcription is a booming field. After a doctor visits

- with a patient, they often dictate a report for your files. People working from their homes often transcribe these reports.
- Small Offices many offices have a small administrative staff. Often, the work load will exceed the capabilities of the staff.
- Secretarial Services these are firms located throughout the United States that provide secretarial services to many businesses. They often hire people to work from their homes.

So, how do you pursue these opportunities? One place to start may be with the phone book. Determine if there are any Secretarial Services in your area. Call or write them and find out if they employ people who work-at-home.

Your State Bureau Of Employment can also be a good place to start. They may have job listings or know of organizations that hire people specifically to work from home.

Finally, you can pursue opportunities individually. These opportunities can include calling area:

- Accountants
- Doctors
- Graphic Designers
- Insurance Offices
- Lawyers
- Lettershops
- Mailing Services
- Manufacturing Companies
- Realtors
- Small Businesses

...and others.

Remember, many small offices can use your work-at-home skills.
